TRAVEL ADVISORY
Region VII, No. 18 Series of 2013
20 November 2013

In the aftermath of Typhoon Yolanda, which hit the northern part of Cebu, including the islands of Bantayan and Malapascua, while transportation to these areas are back to normal, there are limited available accommodation facilities, which rely on generator sets for their power and water supply.

Accommodation establishments in the southern part of Cebu, Mactan Island and Cebu City, remain open to tourists and business travelers. Regular tours are being conducted in the said areas.

For the travelling public's information and guidance.
